

Psalm 103.1-13, 22

George Black

Introduction. Cantor sings refrain. All repeat refrain. Cantor sings verses. All sing refrain after each group of verses. In the psalm-tone the singer leaves the reciting note on the underlined word or syllable.

Introduction

O God, you are full of com - pas - sion and mer - cy.

1 2 3 4

- (1) Bless our God, O my soul;
- (2) Let all that is within me, praise God's holy name.
- (3) Bless our God, O my soul;
- (3) Remember all God's benefits. R.

- (1) You forgive all our sins
- (2) and heals all our infirmities;
- (1) You redeem our life from the grave
- (2) and crown us with mercy and loving-kindness;
- (3) You satisfy us with good things,
- (4) and our youth is renewed like an eagle's. R.

- (1) O god, you execute righteous
- (2) and judgment for all who are oppressed.
- (3) You made your ways known to Moses
- (4) and your works to the children of Israel. R.

- (1) O God, you are full of compassion and mercy,
- (2) slow to anger and of great kindness.
- (3) You will not always accuse us,
- (4) nor will you keep your anger for ever. R.

- (1) You have not dealt with us according to our sins,
- (2) nor rewarded us according to our wickedness.
- (3) For as the heavens are high above the earth,
- (4) so is your mercy great upon those who fear you. R.

- (1) As far as the east is from the west,
- (2) so far have you removed our sins from us.
- (3) As parents care for their children,
- (4) so do you care for those who love you. R.

- (1) Praise God, all things that are made,
- (2) wherever God rules,
- (3) praise God, O my soul. R.
